

Slavery and Human Trafficking Statement for the 2019 Financial Year

This statement sets out the steps that the Klöckner Pentaplast Group is taking to ensure slavery and human trafficking is not taking place in our supply chains or in any part of our business. It represents the Klöckner Pentaplast Group's modern slavery disclosures for the 2019 financial year, made pursuant to obligations including those set out in Section 54 of the UK Modern Slavery Act 2015 and the California Transparency in Supply Chains Act of 2010.

Our commitment

The Klöckner Pentaplast Group is committed to maintaining and improving our practices to prevent slavery and human trafficking violations related to our own operations and our supply chain. We expect our suppliers and supply chain to comply with our aims in this regard. We are committed to compliance with the letter and the spirit of the laws of all countries where we do business, and to conducting all of our business in accordance with high standards of international business ethics, including the International Labour Organisation's Declaration on Fundamental Rights at Work.

About us, our operations and supply chain

The Klöckner Pentaplast Group is a global leader in recycled content products and high barrier protective packaging, serving the pharmaceutical, medical device, food, beverage and card markets, amongst others. - Klöckner Pentaplast is committed to the prevention of modern slavery, servitude, human trafficking, or any forced or compulsory labor anywhere in our supply chain, and we expect our suppliers, vendors, and other third parties to take steps to prevent such practices occurring in their own businesses or supply chains. We will immediately take steps to cease business with any third party which we discover to be complicit in such practices, and will make any required reports to the relevant authorities.
- We have adopted a revised and updated Code of Business Conduct and Ethics (the kp Code) that contains specific provisions addressing human rights, labor and business conduct and expressly states our commitment to the prevention of modern slavery, servitude, human trafficking, and any forced or compulsory labor. Every employee receives a copy of the kp Code. Any employee who violates the kp Code will be subject to disciplinary action, up to and including termination of employment. The kp Code also expresses our expectation that Klöckner Pentaplast suppliers, consultants, agents, distributors, vendors, and other third party representatives will commit to compliance with the kp Code, and therefore also to the modern slavery standards set out therein.
- Our whistleblowing policy encourages and enables staff to report anything of concern and explains how they can do so confidentially and anonymously (if preferred). We do not permit retaliation of any kind against employees or other persons for complaints submitted in good faith. Additionally, no employee will be adversely affected or disciplined by the Company because the employee refuses to carry out a directive which, in fact, constitutes a violation of any laws or the kp Code.

Looking ahead

- In the coming year, Klöckner Pentaplast will provide any new key members of our global and local purchasing teams with training on modern slavery and human trafficking. Our contract standards will go through a review in order to ensure that contracts we enter into with our suppliers include a requirement that such suppliers comply with all applicable laws in supplying goods or services to us, which would encompass compliance with any such laws related to modern slavery and human trafficking. We will continue an enhancement of our supplier management program to address and enforce our policies with respect to modern slavery and human trafficking. We will also continue to undertake ongoing reviews of our policies, programs, and strategies to prevent all forms of modern slavery and human trafficking in our operations and supply chains.
